

Infant research and clinical implications

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Introduction | 95 |
| Implicit knowledge in infant development and therapeutic context, Massimo Ammaniti | 96 |
| Integrating kleinian theory and intersubjective infant research observing projective identification, Stephen Seligman | 110 |
| The expanding world of Edward Tronick, Beatrice Beebe, Frank M. Lachmann | 136 |
| The role of the other: intersubjective psychic transmissions and pathological structures of the self, Giuseppe Moccia | 148 |
